Sophie Koudmani

What I do:
I am a PhD student working on numerical simulations of galaxy formation with high performance computing clusters. My current focus is on the role of active black holes.

A woman who inspires me:
There are too many! In addition to the daily inspiration that I draw from my family, friends, colleagues, and mentors, I would like to highlight Malala Yousafzai – an inspiring advocate for gender equality and women’s rights.

Favourite quote:
“[...] il faut avoir de la persévérance, et surtout de la confiance en soi.”
“[...] one must have perseverance, and above all self-confidence.”
